Mahaiwe to Present Ani DiFranco
May 3, 2014

Great Barrington, Mass.— Mahaiwe Performing Arts Center will present indie singer-songwriter Ani DiFranco on Saturday, May 3 at 8:00pm. “We are looking forward to sharing the dynamic talents of Ani DiFranco with the Mahaiwe community,” said Mahaiwe Executive Director Beryl Jolly.

After 20 years in the music biz, self-described “Little Folksinger” Ani DiFranco is still technically little, although her influence on fellow musicians, activists, and indie-minded people the world over has been huge. She still proudly identifies as a folksinger, too, but her understanding of that term has always been far more expansive than a bin at the record store or a category on iTunes, with ample room for soul, funk, jazz, electronic music, spoken word, and a marching band or two. Over the course of more than 20 albums, including the live double CD Living in Clip (1997) and the two-disc career retrospective Canon (2007), as well as the latest one, Which Side are You On? (2012), Ani has never stopped evolving, experimenting, testing the limits of what can be said and sung.

Her lifelong tribe of co-conspirators includes everyone from Pete Seeger and the late Utah Phillips to a new generation of twentysomething singer-songwriters who grew up with her songs and shows — and then there's the motley crew of folks like Prince, Maceo Parker, Andrew Bird, Dr. John, Arto Lindsay, Bruce Springsteen, Chuck D, the Buffalo

Philharmonic, Gillian Welch, Cyndi Lauper, and even Burmese activist and Nobel laureate Aung San Suu Kyi, with whom she has crossed paths in a myriad of ways.

Tickets

Tickets to Ani DiFranco are $29 to $79. Tickets go on sale to Mahaiwe Members on Wednesday, November 27 at noon and to the public on Friday, November 29 at noon. The box office will be closed on Thursday, November 28 for Thanksgiving, but member tickets are available online 24/7.

A limited number of $15 tickets are available for patrons ages 30 and younger to all Mahaiwe-produced programs through the Mahaiwe ArtSmart Tix program.
